What to review before you start the search.

Before you start looking for a property, it is worth reviewing a few important points so the purchase goes smoothly.

Documentation, purchase structure, funds, financing and your team: each of these has its own timeline, and some take weeks to be ready.

Handling all of it in advance puts you in a position to move quickly when the right property comes along.

IN THIS GUIDE

I Documentation and structure 01 — 02

II Funds and financing 03 — 05

III Your team 06

SECTION I · 01 — 02

Documentation and structure

01 Documentation

— A valid passport

— A valid U.S. visa, where applicable

02 Purchase structure

Decide how the property will be acquired:

— As an individual

— Through an entity (an LLC or another structure)

If the purchase is made through a company, it is important to define that structure in advance and, if needed, arrange for the entity to be formed.

SECTION II · 03 — 05

Funds and financing

03 Funds

Have a financial plan in place for:

- The down payment, if financing is involved
- Closing costs
- A reserve for initial expenses such as insurance, furnishings or any renovation

It is also important to have documentation proving the source of funds, when requested.

04 A U.S. bank account

Although it is not always required to complete the purchase, having a U.S. bank account makes it considerably easier to pay the property expenses, receive rental income and handle other financial transactions.

05 Financing

WHERE APPLICABLE

If you intend to finance the property:

- Check your eligibility
- Consult lenders that work with foreign buyers
- Understand the down payment required and the terms of the loan

SECTION III · 06

Your team

06 Build your team

Working with experienced professionals makes all the difference. Your team may include:

- A real estate advisor
- A mortgage broker, if financing is involved
- A title company
- An attorney, where necessary
- An accountant, for tax planning

The essentials, in five points.

What an international buyer needs in order to buy in Florida.

- ✓ A valid passport
- ✓ In most cases, a valid tourist visa
- ✓ Funds for the down payment or for an all-cash purchase
- ✓ Financial documentation, if you choose to finance
- ✓ A specialized team to guide the entire process

The right preparation shortens the path.

Each of these points has its own path, and the order in which you handle them changes the overall timeline.

If you'd like to work through this checklist together, or need referrals for banks, accountants and title companies that serve international buyers, let's talk.
